

Halloween Magic In the Air at RCC Edison

New Jersey native and former NBC’s America’s Got Talent contestant, Matt Cadabra, charmed Roosevelt Care Center at Edison residents with his Halloween-day performance.

“Of all of my audiences, you...are my most recent,” Cadabra shared with the two dozen-or-so crowd that gathered in the long-term care center’s historic building auditorium. A comedian hobbyist, the young master of magic seamlessly wove tongue-and-cheek improvisation into his hour-long show.

Cadabra delighted onlookers with his bag of tricks, which included a new spin on the endless handkerchief pull, the disappearing-reappearing rabbit act, an escape routine, mind reading games and more.

“Magic is entertainment that transcends age,” said Roosevelt’s Recreation Director Joanne Franklin. “The level of interest is there, whether the audience consists of tiny tots or Golden-agers. We thought this might be a special way to ring in Halloween and I couldn’t have been more pleased with the performance or the feedback.”
